Hello

Here, you'll find everything from historic paintings to contemporary design. So whether you've got 10 minutes, all day, are on your own or have the children with you, welcome. There's no 'right' way around (and you certainly don't have to like everything inside).

Explore

Three floors. 21 rooms.
Over 25,000 items.
There's something for everyone.
Just wander, borrow a free audio guide or pick up one of our free collections highlights leaflets from the information desk.

Enjoy

Don't miss Far, Far Away: A world of stories for families, 2–26 August, 1–3pm. Work with artists to build imaginary worlds and bring stories to life in dance and drama workshops.

There are always special activities for families during school holidays and often at weekends too.

You can always enjoy real artworks and hands-on activities in the Interactive Gallery. Borrow a free story bag or explorer tool belt or follow a Heroes and Monsters trail.

Open

Tuesday–Sunday and Bank Holiday Mondays, 10am–5pm

Closed

Monday, except Bank Holidays, 1 January, Good Friday, 24–26 and 31 December

Discover

Information panels in every room tell you more about works from the collection. The new touchscreen in the entrance hall has information about the architecture of the gallery as well as some of the artworks on display.

Access for everyone

We do everything we can to make our gallery accessible for all visitors. Ask at the gallery information desk for more details.

Got a question?

Just ask a member of staff.

Support us

Admission to the collection is free but a £3 donation (or more) would really help. Please remember to Gift Aid any contribution. You can also support the gallery on a regular basis by becoming a Friend. Ask at the information desk.

Catch

See 11 Rooms, especially commissioned for Manchester International Festival, 10–17 July. A group exhibition of performance art curated by Hans Ulrich Obrist and Klaus Bisenbach, featuring leading contemporary international artists.

Don't miss our major show Ford Madox Brown: Pre-Raphaelite Pioneer 24 September–29 January. It's the first exhibition of his work since 1964 and features 140 paintings and drawings. Tickets £8/£6
